Alleged Slayer Of Marian Parker Escapes Capture

William Hickman, Once Employed in Bank Where Girl's Father Was an Official, Is Named by Police—Slips Through Police Drag Net—Mother Not Informed of Charge Against Son.

Los Angeles, Dec. 20 (P).—A man believed to be William Edward Hickman, named by police as the slayer of Marian Parker, driving what the police think is his second stolen automobile, slipped through a police drag net today and escaped capture by a minute.

So close was the chase that a short time later a report reached police headquarters of his arrest, but it proved a mistake, and upwards of 1,000 peace officers of southern California continued the drive.

Just before dawn, a blue car with wire wheels pulled into a filling station on West Sixth street. The driver asked for five gallons of gasoline, got it, and requested a new bulb for one of his headlights. While the attendant was inside the building getting the light the car sped away. Jack Woods, the attendant, jumped into his automobile and gave chase, not for a fugitive with $100,000 on his head, but to collect $1.05 for the gasoline.

The two cars thundered down Sixth street to Broadway, the main business artery of the city.

They swung into Broadway going north, with the fugitive gaining. Someone telephoned police about the mad chase which was headed for the headquarters of Herman S. Cline, chief of detectives, who last night, announced that the man sought for the killing was Hickman, once employed in the bank where the girl's father was an official.

The detective chief threw a squad of 100 officers into the street in a moment's notice. Before they could reach that intersection the fugitive sped east and escaped in the darkness. Later Woods said Hickman was the fugitive, judging from the photographs at police headquarters.

Meanwhile a heavy guard was thrown around central police station where a man whose name was not divulged, but who is said by Cline to have been an intermediary between the kidnapper and the Parker family is being held. This man, an aviation enthusiast, came here recently from Kansas City, former home of Hickman.

Mother Not Informed.
Kansas City, Dec. 20 (P).—Unable to understand why detectives awakened her before dawn at her home here today, Mrs. Eva Hickman, pictured her son Edward as a youth who left a few months ago with an enviable scholastic record to make his way in the world.

Confronted by three detectives, the gray-haired mother told of "Edward's recent trouble with the bank in California."

It was apparent she thought her son was wanted in connection with the forgery of checks when he was employed in the coast bank. She was not informed of the charges against her son.

Mrs. Hickman told how she had managed a boarding house while Edward completed his course in high school and of his graduation in 1926 with high honors.

His school annual showed he was voted "the best boy orator" in his senior year, had been named president of several class societies, and had taken a leading part in many activities.

Los Angeles, Dec. 20 (P).—All the agencies of the law here were unleashed today and set upon the trail of one mere boy—a seemingly mild mannered former bank employee, who has been named by the police as the kidnapper who murdered and mutilated little Marian Parker and then bartered her body to her father for $15,000.

The intensive search, given impetus by the fact that a price of $100,000 has been placed on his head, got under way this morning after the police had announced that William Edward Hickman, former employee of the Los Angeles First Trust and Savings Bank, had been positively identified through finger prints and photographs as the slayer of the 12 year old daughter of Perry Parker, an officer of the bank.

Chief of Detectives Herman Cline made public the findings of his investigation after police had visited the youth's home in Alhambra, Cal., and learned that the young man was not there. His mother, Mrs. Eva M. Hickman, lives in Kansas City.

The motive for the kidnapping, slaying and dissection of Marian, was supported in police theory. Hickman two years ago was given a job in the bank. He worked as a clerk until six months ago when arrested for forgery.

Paroled To His Mother.
Admitting having traced signatures from checks entrusted in his care, the youth confessed and was paroled to his mother. Police believe Hickman got the erroneous impression that Parker had opposed the parole and urged a prison sentence.

Last Thursday came the sequel to the forgery case, as constructed by Chief Cline. A young man called at the Junior High School which Marian attended and said her father had been injured and was calling for her. The unsuspecting school officials released her from class and the stranger drove away with her.

Winter Arrives Ahead of Schedule

Little Relief Promised Before Wednesday, Eve of First Day of Winter—Break Christmas Week Weather—High Winds Delay Seven Ships.

New York, Dec. 29 (P).—Winter arrived ahead of schedule and had an icy grip on the eastern section of the country today.

Falling temperatures created bleak Christmas week weather prospects on land while high winds reached far out to sea to delay seven transatlantic liners loaded with 18,000 sacks of Christmas mail. All forms of traffic were delayed. One man died of exhaustion in Erie, Pa.

On today's list of ship arrivals are the White Star liner Majestic, carrying 17,644 sacks of Christmas gifts and messages, said to be a record shipment for one vessel; the White Star liner Calgair, the Cunarder Asolia, the American Merchant liner American Farmer, the Anchor liner Letitia, the Atlantic Transport liner Minnesota and the Hamburg-American liner Thuringia. All were hours overdue.

Air mail traffic was disrupted in western New York. Communication lines were down in many places in the eastern lake region and others were threatened by the rising storm. Two hundred stranded motorists were rescued from snowdrifts in which their automobiles had stalled on the south shore of Lake Erie.

Relief agencies in New York city were filled to capacity as the cold drove the homeless to charity shelters. The temperature reached a minimum of 19 at 9 a. m. yesterday but held steady in the middle twenties the rest of the day and evening.

Little relief was promised before tomorrow, the eve of the first day of winter.

Two Sisters Die Of Starvation

Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 29 (P).—Two spinster sisters, whose hermit existence in a dilapidated old home near here has occasioned stories of mysteriously accumulated wealth, are dead today from starvation.

One of the sisters, Miss Catherine Metzger, 79, was found dead in the barnyard of the old estate at Bridgeport, east of this city. The other, Miss Harriet Metzger, 64, succumbed at a Lancaster hospital. Lancaster county authorities said the deaths were due to starvation and exposure.

The two elderly women entered a self-imposed exile away from their relatives in the old family home, instead. Persons who visited the place for the first time since the death of the pair, found a sickly-looking cow and several underfed chickens in an otherwise empty barn.

Ice in Upper Hudson River

The cold weather of the past few days has made ice in the upper Hudson river, although not of great thickness, and navigation on the upper river is practically at a close.

The steamer J. H. Tremper of the Central Hudson Line made its last trip of the season between Albany and Newburgh on Monday.

The towing season on the Hudson river is also easing up and there is but little towing being done at the present time.

The Central Hudson Line is still making daily trips between this port and New York.

So far this season the Hudson river has not been frozen over in this vicinity, and the ferry Transport is making regular trips.

Two Killed in Train Mishap

Warren, Pa., Dec. 29 (P).—Two trainmen were killed here today when a local Pennsylvania passenger train jumped the tracks and the boiler of the locomotive exploded.

M. G. Kernick, freeman, of Erie, and Edward Metzgar, engineer, of Warren, were killed.

Erie, Pa., Dec. 29 (P).—Reports to railroad headquarters here from Warren were that all coaches on an eastbound Pennsylvania passenger train were derailed today when the locomotive boiler blew up. Passengers were reported to have been shaken when the cars left the tracks. A relief train was sent from Erie.

Malpractice Suit Of Saugerties Man On Trial in Court

Gust Gunther Sues Dr. E. W. Gifford Of Saugerties for $25,000 Damages on Account of Amputation of Leg at Knee Following Accident He Sustained in 1923.

Monday afternoon an action brought by Gust Gunther of Saugerties against Dr. E. W. Gifford of Saugerties for malpractice was taken up for trial in the Supreme court before Judge Russell and a jury. The action is brought to recover money damages for alleged negligence on the part of the defendant, who was the attending physician following an injury to Mr. Gunther's foot in 1923. Plaintiff seeks $25,000 damages.

On November 7, 1923, while Mr. Gunther was working about his place cutting branches from a tree, his axe slipped and inflicted a wound in the left foot near the ankle. Counsel for the plaintiff described the injury as a small injury of but little consequence.

Mrs. Gunther gave first aid and later called Dr. Gifford, who treated the injury. Defendant's counsel, referring to the injury, said it was a severe cut which severed arteries, tendons and cut deep to the bone. The plaintiff claims that shortly after the accident the doctor was called and attended the injury. He continued to treat the cut for a time but plaintiff alleges that through the negligent or unskillful treatment the injury grew worse and an infection set in and blood poisoning followed.

Later the leg was amputated at the knee at the Kingston City Hospital by Dr. Chandler.

Plaintiff alleges that the loss of the leg was due to negligence on the part of Dr. Gifford and seeks to recover damages.

Defendant Denies Negligence.

The defendant claims that the injury did happen as the plaintiff alleged but that the injury was a bad one. He also claims that although the accident happened at 11 a. m. it was not until 1 p. m. that he was called and he arrived fifteen minutes later. The injury was a severe one, cutting tendons and arteries and cutting to the bone near the instep. The injury was a serious one and a few days later Dr. Mark O'Meara was called in consultation. Blood poisoning did set in but the defendant contends that it was not due to lack of care or negligence but to the nature of the injury. Everything was done to save the leg.

Gunther is a man of middle age and for twenty years was a member of the U. S. Navy. He retired from the service and resided at Saugerties. It was anticipated that there would be a considerable amount of expert medical testimony given in the case by several of Kingston's best doctors. Several physicians and surgeons were in the court room and Amos Van Etten appear for the plaintiff and Corporation Counsel H. H. Fleming appears for the defendant.

Gunther's Wife Testifies.

The malpractice action against Dr. Gifford was continued today. Mrs. Kathryn Gunther, wife of Gust Gunther, plaintiff, was on the stand when court recessed at noon. She had testified to the various acts in connection with the treatment of her husband's leg following a cut inflicted accidentally with an axe.

According to her testimony, when she learned of the accident she had cared for the injury by using peroxide of hydrogen, iodoform and salt. She then called Dr. E. W. Gifford of Saugerties and he cared for the injury. Later she testified, the cut began to give trouble and Dr. Gifford advised that it be kept in a tub of hot water. This treatment was continued for several weeks. The wound became infected and finally Dr. O'Meara was called in by Dr. Gifford. Mrs. Gunther said she never asked that he be called. An incision was made to relieve the pus in the foot by Dr. O'Meara. Three cuts were made on the foot near the toes.

Later the foot became worse and the hot water treatment was continued for a total of six weeks. During that time and following the operation by Dr. O'Meara, Gunther was taken to the Benedictine Hospital for treatment and later removed to his home when Mrs. Gunther insisted that he be brought home. After he returned home his condition failed to improve and Dr. Chandler was called and found it necessary to amputate. The progress of the case was told at great detail by Mrs. Gunther.

She Suggested Naval Hospital.

She said she asked Dr. Gifford to have her husband taken to the Naval Hospital in New York but he suggested the Benedictine Hospital. She said Dr. Gifford said the condition of the patient would not allow the trip. She said she wanted them to take her husband to the Naval Hospital and it was against her wishes that he was finally taken to the Benedictine Hospital.

Husband Directed Amputation.

She also testified she had refused to give Dr. Chandler permission to amputate the leg but Dr. Chandler said it was the only hope for her husband. She never gave her permission but her husband told Dr. Chandler to operate. At the time, (Continued on Page Three)

Calles, Obregon, In Separate Trips With Lindbergh

Mexico City, Dec. 29 (P).—President Calles and former President Obregon today made separate flights with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, American air hero, at the stick of a commercial plane loaned for the trips.

President Calles and General Obregon were each in the air about 25 minutes. The Mexican president, making his first flight, went up first with the American flier.

General Obregon, who is the only candidate left in the field for next year's presidential election, went up immediately after the president.

Both President Calles and General Obregon expressed great pleasure in the flight and said that they had complete confidence in the American airman.

Remus Acquittal Only on Insanity

Cincinnati, Dec. 29 (P).—George Remus's hope for an outright acquittal of the charge of first degree murder for slaying his estranged wife, Imogene, was dashed today when Judge Chester R. Shook decreed that the best Remus could hope for would be acquittal on the sole ground of insanity.

The court feels that in view of the state of the record there can be absolutely no claim in reason; logic or law successfully advanced in denial of an unlawful killing," read the opinion of Judge Shook.

"The court upon careful consideration, is brought to the inevitable conclusion that the defendant is entitled to a verdict of not guilty solely on the grounds of insanity."

The judge's ruling was upon a demand by Prosecutor Charles P. Taft, II, that Remus be held to some form of accountability for the slaying.

Should the defendant obtain the acquittal because of insanity, rather than some form of direct punishment ranging up to electrocution, his case would be thrown into a sanity hearing to determine the present state of his mind.

French Naval Program Passed

Paris, Dec. 29 (P).—The French naval program for 1927 to 1931 which was stated to be fully in agreement with the Washington accord, was passed by the Chamber of Deputies at a special session today. The voting was by a show of hands, the Socialists abstaining.

Before the vote was taken the Socialists announced that the program "was a resumption of the race in heavy tonnage."

The program for 1927 which was completed before June 30, 1928, includes one cruiser of 10,000 tons, six destroyers, five submarines of the first class, one submarine minelayer and two despatch boats. A sum of $1,000,000 francs (approximately $200,000) was set aside for the preliminary work to be done during the next two weeks.

Expenditures for the other years were: 1928, 150,000,000 francs; 1929, 250,000,000; 1930, 250,000,000; and for 1931, 125,000,000 francs.

Thieves Steal Christmas Bulbs

The merchants of the city have gone to considerable expense this year to decorate the streets for the holiday season and advantage has been taken of that fact by thieves who are helping themselves to the electric light bulbs from the decorations along Broadway. The police department has received a number of complaints regarding the thefts. The thefts extend on Broadway from Chester street to Albany avenue. Chief of Police Wood stated that if the thieves are caught they will be punished to the full extent of the law.

Albany, Dec. 29 (P).—"Safety first" is the slogan of saloonkeepers hereabouts, according to George W. Gay, local enforcement agent. Gay said today that word has just reached him that a new bartender was refused admittance by the "lookout" of an Albany saloon.

"We are not taking any chances," the lookout said. "You may be the new bartender, and you may not. I can't let you in."

Injunction to Prevent Garage

Property Owners Seek to Restrict Frederick Van Demark from Erecting Commercial Garage on Hurley Avenue—Van Demark Relies on Zoning Board of Appeals.

Application for an injunction restraining Frederick Van Demark from erecting a commercial garage at 78-80 Hurley avenue was made in the Supreme court this morning by Walter J. Miller who appeared for taxpayers in the vicinity. The motion to make a temporary injunction permanent was opposed by John W. Eckert who appeared for Mr. Van Demark.

Some time ago Frederick Van Demark, who conducts a repair shop at 49 Hurley avenue, bought the land at 78-80 for the purpose of erecting a commercial garage 30 by 10 feet in size where he intended to repair cars. His garage is not to be a public garage. Application was made to the board of public works for permission under the zoning law. The board at first granted the application on plans submitted but later revoked the permit. An appeal was taken to the Zoning Board of Appeals and the permission was granted, the decision of the board of public works being reversed.

A temporary injunction was secured by property owners, among them being Owen Cassidy, who owns the adjoining property, and the injunction order was served on December 12. At that time, under the order of the Zoning Board of Appeals work had been commenced on the garage and work is now in progress. This work was halted under the injunction order.

Mr. Miller for his clients stated he was seeking relief in a taxpayer's action to have the injunction made permanent. This relief is sought on the grounds that the garage is being erected contrary to the zoning law, which states a garage building must be erected at least 50 feet from the street or curb line in a residence section. Mr. Miller argued that the garage being built is but 25 feet from the curb line and is therefore in violation of the ordinance.

Van Demark's Contention.

Mr. Eckert contended that his client is conforming to the order of the Zoning Board of Appeals before which board the plans and specifications were laid prior to granting the permission to erect the building. Mr. Eckert also contended that the proper relief was not being sought. He contended that it was not a taxpayer's action but an action between individuals. The Zoning Board of Appeals and also the board of public works and the fire commissioners had the plans laid before them prior to the granting of the permission and he contended that in view of these facts his client is within the law and should be allowed to continue under the permission granted by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

He did not question the matter of distance from the street as that was before the appeal board when it granted the permission, and permission having been granted, the applicant is living up to the requirements in the plans which were before the board of appeal.

Mr. Miller argued that the board of public works under the ordinance had power to enforce the zoning law but as the board was not asserting its power in this case, the present relief was being sought.

Judge Russell reserved decision and took papers.

Friends Declare Hoover Eligible

For the Presidency, Pointing to Opinion Written in 1920 By Former Attorney General Wickersham to Support their Contention.

New York, Dec. 29 (P).—The New York World today says friends of Herbert Hoover point to the opinion written in 1920 by former Attorney General George W. Wickersham to support their contention that Hoover is eligible for the presidency.

The question as to whether the secretary of commerce met the constitutional requirement of 14 years continuous residence in the United States because of his professional journeys abroad, is being discussed by newspapers. The World says that the question was raised privately in the campaign of 1920 and Mr. Wickersham, after reviewing the secretary's life, held there was ample evidence that he had not lost his domicile in this country.

Some constitutional lawyers, who would not permit the use of their names, the World says, hold there is merit in the contention of those who believe Secretary Hoover disqualified constitutionally to hold the presidency. The majority, however, including Louis Marshall and ex-Governor Charles S. Whitman, agree with Mr. Wickersham, the article says.

In the spirit of this good will season, we say to one and all: "Our compliments and appreciation."

And may your Christmas be as pleasant as you have made OLD GOLD'S.

Malpractice Suit On Trial in Court

She testified the bone in the foot was rotted away and the front of the foot dead, according to what Dr. Chandler said on examination. She testified that Dr. Chandler discovered the pus and the condition of the bone but after he showed it to Dr. Gifford, Gifford refused to believe the bone was affected.

She said Dr. Gifford had told her a large lump on the foot was granulation and called Dr. Chandler in to assist in reducing it. Dr. Chandler diagnosed the lump as a malignant tumor which would not heal. She said Dr. Chandler said he could not understand how a physician in attendance had failed to observe the condition before. After examining the foot, Dr. Chandler advised an operation to save the life of Mr. Gunther but she would not give her consent. Dr. Chandler said it was a chance in a thousand and she told him to leave her husband there and not operate.

Positive She Is Correct.
However, after her husband was told of the condition he agreed to an operation and his leg was amputated below the knee.

Mrs. Gunther on cross-examination was very positive all of the testimony given and attributed to Dr. Chandler and Dr. Gifford was correct. She was positive the conversation recited by her and attributed to Dr. Chandler was correct, and that she had made no mistakes.

She said she was positive Dr. Chandler had told her not to allow Dr. Gifford to touch the leg after the amputation and after the return from the hospital.

Witness said she never authorized any attention by Dr. O'Meara at the Benedictine Hospital and so far as she knew Dr. Gifford was the only man to treat Mr. Gunther at the hospital while he was there. She never authorized a consultation with any other doctor at the Benedictine Hospital.

The cross-examination laid a foundation for expert medical testimony in regard to treatment as well as for questioning of conversations and Mrs. Gunther. The case will take all of today and extend into Wednesday.

No other cases will be added to the day calendar. This is the last week of this term of court.

of work, presumably in the hope of aiding in their own release.

The officer said there was no possible way in which the prisoners could better their condition. All help, they maintained must come from the outside.

Discussing the theory that all but one of the men might emerge through the torpedo tubes, one remaining behind to send the others out, S-8 officers said this could not be done because there was no air in the torpedo compartment to discharge the torpedoes.

Two Saved by Illness.

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 20 (AP)—Two men saved by illness from making the last tragic trip on the submarine S-4, were in the hospital at the navy yard here today watching with tense eagerness for the latest news of their shipmates imprisoned at the bottom of the sea. It was on the day that the S-4 left here after repairs from her standardization tests that J. A. Guidry, gunners' mate, was taken to the hospital suffering from a lame back.

James B. Rice, machinist's mate, entered the hospital a month ago because of measles and complications.

Alleged Slayer Escapes Capture

home, the search was begun. Next day Parker received a telegram revealing that she was in the hands of a kidnapper who threatened desperate measures unless he was given $1,500 and allowed to make a getaway without fear of police intervention.

Parker, distracted, appealed to the law and started to keep a rendezvous with the kidnapper while the police watched from a distance. The wily kidnapper failed to appear, having discovered that he would have to deal with the law if he kept the appointment.

Notes Signed by Girl.

Three or four letters threatened death to Marian, and two plaintive notes signed by the girl herself then came to the distracted parents. In desperation, Parker asked the police to withdraw because of fears for the life of the child.

The banker last Saturday night drove to a place near the Parker home on instructions from the kidnapper, taking $1,500 in $20 bills. A mysterious automobile approached and a masked man leaned out and inquired about the money. Parker asked to see his little girl.

The masked man pointed to a wrapped form in the seat beside him. "She's asleep," he said, and then ordered the banker to hand over the money, saying he would leave the girl a short distance ahead.

The stranger drove away with the money. A few feet ahead of Parker's car he hurled the wrapped form of Marian to the ground. With a cry Parker gathered it in his arms. The little girl had been killed and cut to pieces.

The motive, Cline says, was revenge.

After having chased thousands of false clues, the police satisfied themselves this morning that Hickman was the man wanted. Finger prints taken from the ransom notes and from the wheel of the killer's abandoned automobile were found to correspond with those taken by the police two years ago when he was "mugged" for the forgery charges.

Identified in Flight.

William Edward Hickman, sought as the murderer of Marian Parker, was reported to have been identified in flight here early this morning by a garage attendant who sold him five gallons of gas. Police declared they were hot on the fugitive's trail.

Jack Wood, attendant at the garage, reported to the police that the man, whom he afterwards positively identified as Hickman from photographs, drove into the place and ordered the gasoline.

When the tank was filled, the driver of the car said that one of his headlights appeared dim and asked Wood to get him another.

Wood went back into the garage for the light and while he was gone the man drove away.

Police Arrest Another.

Police today revealed they had arrested a man whose name they would not divulge but who is believed to have been an intermediary in the negotiations between the slayer of Marian Parker and the family of the girl.

The man in custody came here from Kansas City, Mo., several weeks ago and is known to have been a friend of both the Parker family and Hickman, who was discharged from the bank at which Marian's father was personnel officer.

He is said to be an aviation enthusiast.

Detectives pointed to the slayer's use of the aviation term "solo" in the ransom notes as the bit of proof that the arrested man might have acted at least in an advisory capacity in the penning of the death missives.

AGED COLORED WOMAN WAS BURNED TO DEATH

Mrs. Mary Noble, a colored woman, aged 83 years, who lived with her daughter, Lena Overbaugh, at Catskill, was burned to death Sunday night, probably from having set fire to her own clothing. The daughter had gone out of the house, and returning in about half an hour found her mother lying across the floor of the room, her clothing burned off and her body charred by the flames which had consumed them. She was still living, and Dr. Mahlon H. Atkinson was sent for. On his arrival he found the unfortunate woman dead and began an investigation as coroner.

It appeared from the investigation that Mrs. Noble was a subject of senile dementia, due to her great age, and that she had an obsession that led her to delight in rolling up pieces of paper, lighting them in the wood stove, and burning them on the top of the stove. It is thought she was engaged in this amusement when her clothing took fire and she received fatal burns. The room showed signs of having been ignited in three places, but the fire had died out of itself. She doubtless had rushed toward the door of the room but had fallen from weakness and injuries and remained in that position until discovered by her daughter.

Reception Monday evening was the reverse of what it was on preceding evenings in that it grew stronger as the evening advanced, so that the General Motors program was received perfectly, especially from WGY. Southern stations were strong but the west was generally weak. This condition was general as the WEEI radio review man stated that reception in Boston showed the same state of affairs there. WSB, WJAX and WSM were the star DX stations. There was little local interference and very little static. Afternoon reception was very clear.

New Development Of Canada's Mines

New Area to be Opened up in Hopes of Big Returns in Capital Invested—Modern Scientific Methods Employed.

Ottawa, Dec. 22 (AP).—A chronicle of trial and error, perseverance and failure and a large amount of luck makes up the story of Canada's latest frontier mining development.

The Flin, 400 miles northwest of Winnipeg and ninety miles from the Le Pas, nearest railroad point, is a lake and timber country known only to trappers and only partially mapped. But its name will appear in bigger type in the maps of the immediate future for thirty million dollars will be spent in the Flin Flon area and it is destined to take its place with Cobalt, Timmins, Rouyn, Sudbury and the other great mining communities of the Dominion.

The new community is said to contain 18,000,000 tons of copper, zinc-silver-gold ore which the prospector of a generation ago would have passed by as being of too low a grade. But it is modern scientific methods that have made the Flin Flon possible. The Canadian National railways management has shown its complete confidence in the future of the Flin Flon by building a ninety mile spur line into the district. The present owners—the Harry Payne Whitney interests of New York city—are starting at once to build a huge smelter for the reduction of the low grade ores of the district and to take advantage of the water power of the area. A great new frontier community is being created but it is the story of the finding of the Flin Flon that is the most romantic part of all.

Error in Making Assay.

Four prospectors in 1915 were penniless. They were known as the Four Musketeers because of their loyalty to each other. It took them most of the winter to find a "grub stake" which two Toronto men finally provided. The party pushed into the wilderness of Northwestern Saskatchewan and began to work some old claims. Vague rumors reached them from trappers and stray prospectors of a find on the shores of Lake Flin Flon and one of the party went further east to the Manitoba boundary and brought back samples. Here enters the element of error for those samples from Flin Flon were wrongly assayed and the ore was said to produce $34.00 to the ton. Soon claims extending half a mile back from the lake had been staked and then a true assay was made which revealed a real value of about $2 per ton. Operations stopped after nearly $350,000 had been spent.

Operations stopped after nearly $350,000 had been spent.

An American firm about this time became interested and took an option, but let the proposition drop in 1919. In 1920 the Mining Corporation of Canada appeared on the scene and began work. This was the real start of the Flin Flon undertaking which led to the purchases this year by the Whitney interests. The future now appears to be assured and an expenditure of $30,000,000 is to be made in order to obtain the new found wealth of the hinterland.

Western Canada Has Hopes.

Unusual interest in the undertaking is being manifested in Canada on account of the comparatively close proximity of the Hudson Bay railway which is being built by Canada northeast of The Pas. The new Flin Flon spur will reach northwest and the two make a great Y into the North Country. Western Canada is building great hopes for the future of these two lines, one to take grain by a short route to the Hudson Bay seaboard and the other to bring minerals and pulpwood out of the north.

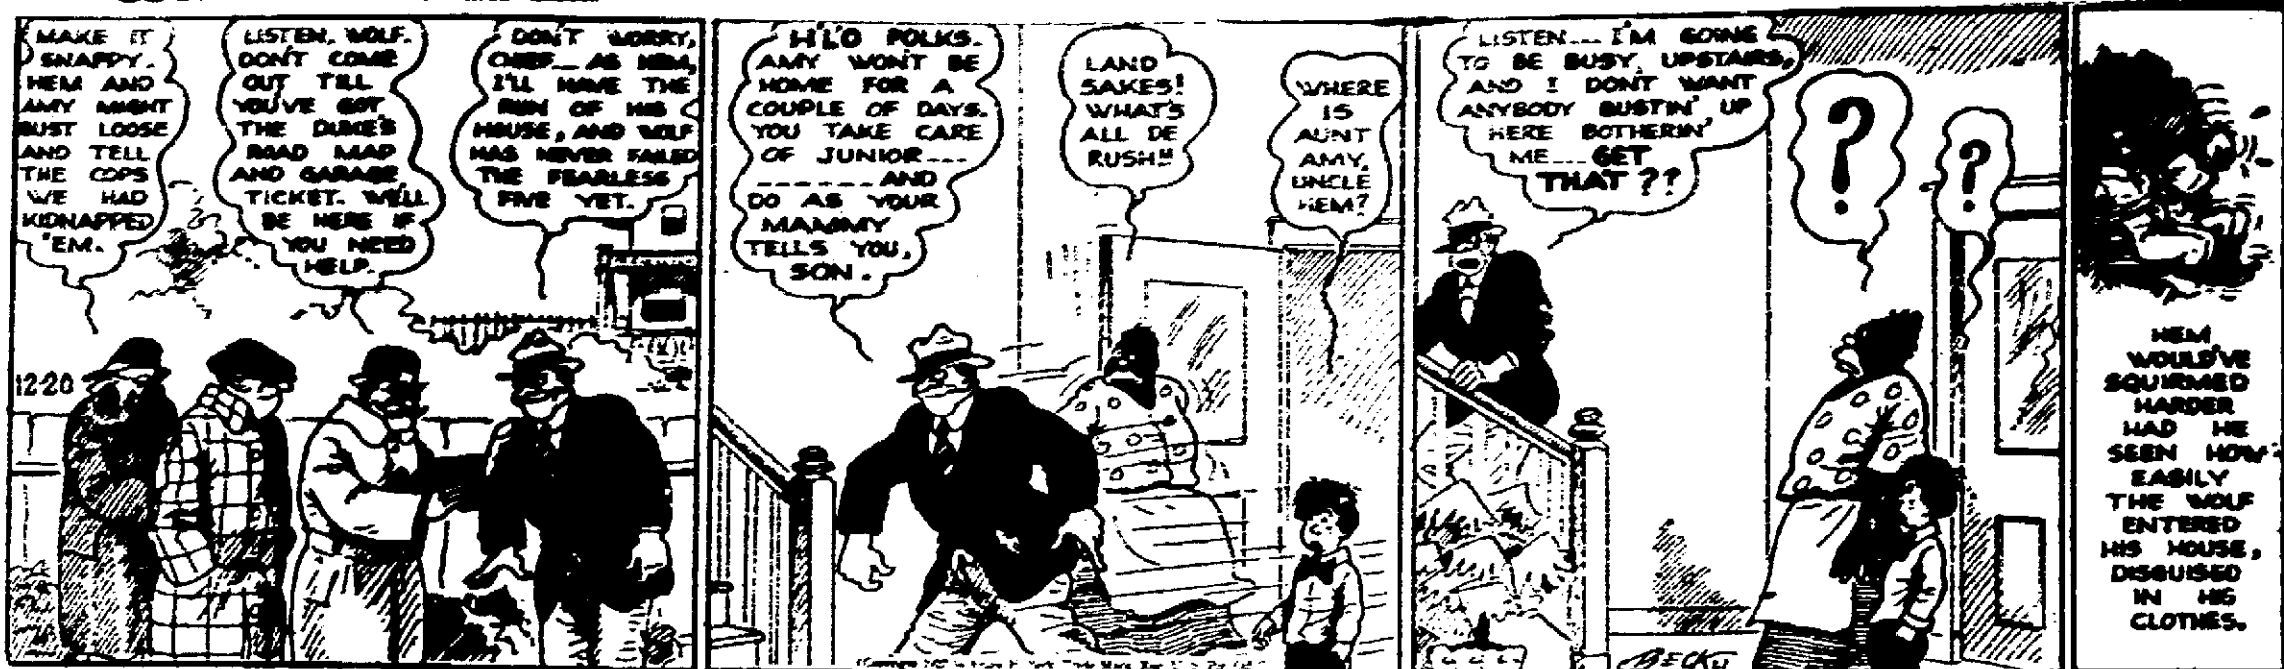

Heart's Resting Periods

The human heart rests between beats, according to an answered question in Liberty. It is explained that the actual contraction of the heart muscles takes about a tenth of a second. The heart rests until the next contraction, about eight-tenths of a second later.

Air Affects Trees

Physical changes in the air are reflected in the lives of the trees, says Nature Magazine. Warm air stimulates growth; cold air checks it.

Congress Talks Service Classic

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP).—Congress may thrust its many fingered hand into the Army-Navy football dispute and attempt to draw out a solution.

Two resolutions that would direct the secretaries of war and navy to do all possible to settle the controversy over the three year rule and get the Army mule and Navy goat back on the gridiron are before the house. They came from Representative Fish, Republican, who represents the West Point, N. Y., district and Representative Britten, Republican, who helped land the 1926 service classic for his home town Chicago.

Fish denied the granting of West Point appointments to college football stars and then permitting them to play three more years in army uniforms. He pointed out that Captain Harry Wilson of this year's army team has been playing for seven consecutive years and that a similar record was held by his predecessor, Captain Hewitt.

He advocated a rule permitting service men to play only four years, including college and military careers. If the Army cannot accept the three year rule in effect at Annapolis and many large colleges. Britten's resolution, declaring absence of a service classic next year would impair the cordiality between the two branches, insisted that West Point accept the three year provision. Unless voluntary agreement continues, Britten threatened to present West Point's attitude to the house "in its true light."

He predicted that football fans would demand an equality of rules to settle the difficulty.

unless West Point can show in its games with other teams that it is entitled to a handicap. Britten, who is ranking Republican member of the naval committee said he feared for the best interests of the sport and suggested prompt executive action would demand an equality of rules to settle the difficulty.

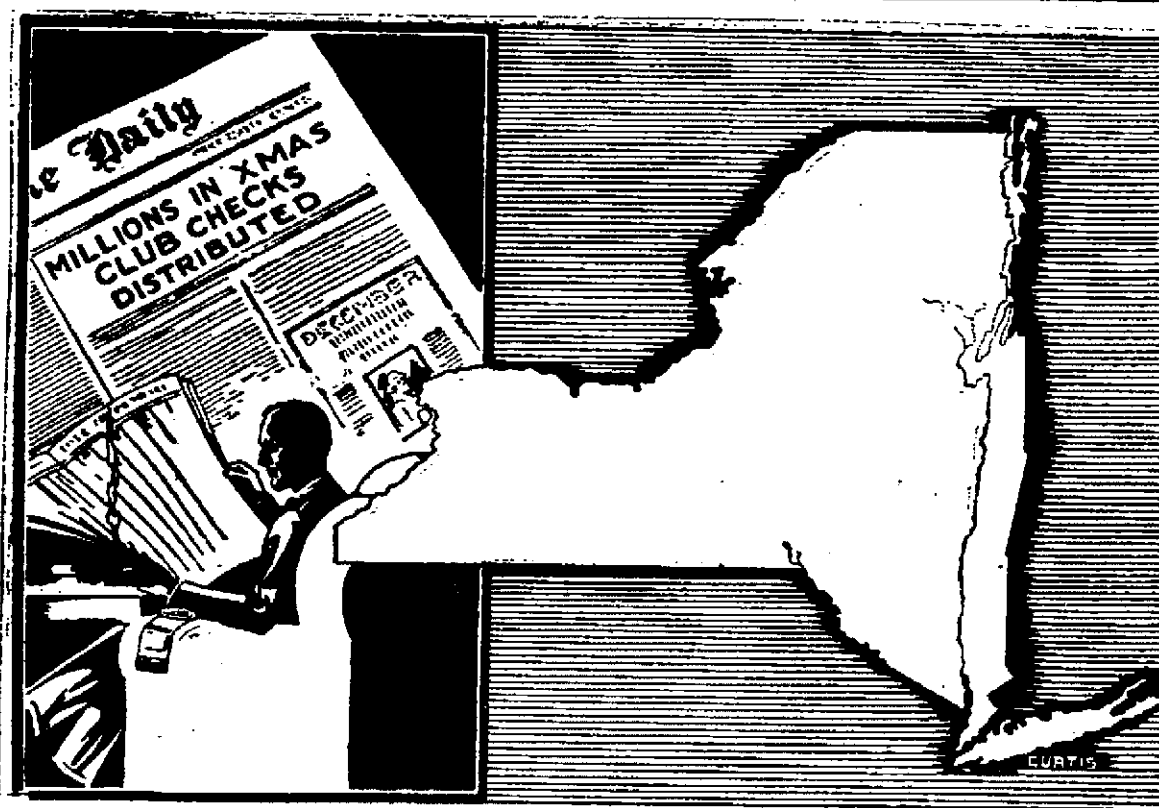

The annual meeting of the stockholders of The First National Bank of London, Ontario, will be held at the banking house, No. 10 Broadway, in the city of Kingston, on Tuesday, January 10, 1928, between the hours of 11 a. m. and 12 noon.

News and Advertising Form a Co-Partnership

ADVERTISING is News.—It tells what, why, how and where to buy. The daily newspaper is the natural, sound and accepted carrier of news and as such it brings to advertising a logical means of expression.

News is timely. Within the past two weeks newspapers have told in their news columns of large reservoirs of money that had become available for Christmas Shopping. These same newspapers have had scores of advertisements which informed their readers where they could cash their Christmas Club checks, where and what to buy to the best advantage.

Atmosphere and environment given to an advertisement are important considerations which can best be supplied by the daily newspaper. An advertisement of interest to men may tie up with news of interest to men, the sport pages. Women's pages offer unusual opportunities to advertisements of interest to women. Financial advertisements are placed on financial pages. Local advertisers prefer local news pages. Radio and automobile pages are available.

Then, too, everyone—at least everyone that can be classed as a possible buyer gets his news from one source—the daily newspaper. In New York State, outside of New York City, the situation is ideal—1,531,466 daily newspapers are read by 1,175,288 families—which means one medium that has absolutely 100% coverage. The slight duplication makes for economy which is illustrated plainly by the fact that an entire campaign of 5,000 lines of advertising in every one of these newspapers costs less than 2½¢ per family.

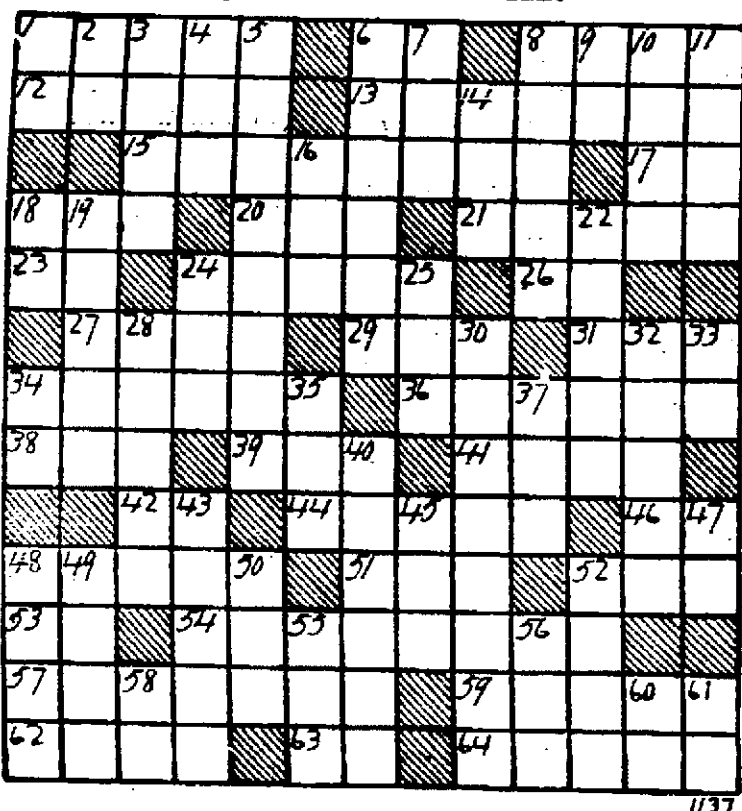

The daily newspaper is a vital part of its market and quite naturally knows that market thoroughly. Advertisers may obtain helpful information concerning all or any part of this market from a non-competitive source. Ask this newspaper or write Advertising Bureau, New York State Publishers, 709 Charlotte Street, Utica, N. Y.

room for only a few at morning. The others should be removed in thinning and there are often the best trees and the ones which make the best Christmas trees.

"The Department is advocating, in connection with forest plantations, the planting of spruce and balsam for Christmas trees, with the idea of cutting out the Christmas trees when they have reached the proper size and leaving the rest of the timber crop to mature, thus providing the person who plants the forest with a return, which it is estimated under proper marketing conditions will cover the cost of making the plantation, and thus enhance the value of the final timber crop."

"The Conservation Law forbids the removal, either by cutting or digging up, of any evergreen tree on the lands of another, without the consent of the owner, and the statute provides a severe penalty for any infraction.

"Furthermore, the transporting of trees from the forest, either for planting at home or for Christmas tree purposes, frequently results in distributing insect pests and tree diseases.

"Let us, rather than seek to abolish the use of the Christmas tree, resolve to promote intelligent cutting of Christmas trees and put a stop to theft and trespass in connection with our big Christmas holiday."

The Christmas Pudding.
(A recipe.)
Take some human nature, as you find it.
The commonest variety will do;
Put a little graciousness behind it.
Add a lump of charity, or two.
Squeeze in just a drop of moderation.
Half as much frugality, or less.
Add some very fine consideration.
Strain off all of poverty's distress.
Pour some milk of human kindness in it,
Put in all the happiness you can;
Stir it up with laughter every minute.
Season with good will toward every man.
Set it on the fire of heart's affection.
Leave it till the jolly bubbles rise;
Sprinkle it with kisses, for confor-tion,
Sweeten with a look of loving eyes.
Flavor it with children's merry chatter.
Frost it with the snow of wintry della.
Place it on a holly-garnished platter.
And serve with the song of Christmas bells.

Back in the old days, when an Indian was broke all he had to do was to get a job standing in front of a cigar store.

Few businesses are so good that more advertising will not help them.

"Now, boys," said the teacher. "I have to divide four potatoes equally among five boys. How shall I do it?" They couldn't think of a way. Then the smaller boy at the foot of the class held up his hand. "All right, Johnny, how would you do it?" "Mash 'em," said Johnny.

If some men had a thousand lives they'd lose them all in an aeroplane.

The best Christmas present you can give your mother is your presence.

"Big fight."
"Where?"
"Down by the lake—the waves are beating up on the shore."

Even a wise man relishes the silly prattle of a pretty woman. Oh, my, yes!

Johnnie (to himself): "Ain't that hell?"
Mother (horrified): "Why, Johnnie! Where did you hear that naughty word?"
Johnnie: "That's what papa said when you fired the maid."

A woman may pretend to be convinced against her will, but she never is.

Three Nations to Join In "Olive Branch" Pact

Sir Austen Chamberlain (left), Aristides Briand (right), and Benito Mussolini (center), may come together in peace session that will have important bearing on European political affairs.

Premier Mussolini has accepted the olive branch. The symbol, tendered by Aristides Briand, foreign minister of France, will lead to a meeting between the two statesmen that will clear up the somewhat strained Franco-Italian situation. What's more, Sir Austen Chamberlain, England's foreign minister, will probably be a third party to this important conference. The Duke is in favor of the session. He has informed the Italian Chamber that all points of friction should be wiped away.

MILTON.

Milton, Dec. 19.—A community Christmas Tree will be placed on the Milton Library lawn this week by the Big Brothers' Club of the Methodist Church assisted by the Boy Scouts. On Christmas Eve there will be carols sung and everyone is invited to join this community song service.

A candle light service will be held by the Presbyterian, Methodist and Friends' churches at the Presbyterian Church Sunday evening, December 25, at 7 o'clock. There will be a special musical program and stereopticon views. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The regular union church service will be held Monday evening, January 2, in the Friends' Church. The Rev. J. A. Hurn will be the speaker of the evening.

The Rev. Cecil Haworth, pastor of the Friends' Church, is securing lantern slides on "God's Gift to Man", portraying the original Christmas story.

The Methodist Sunday school will hold its annual Christmas exercises at the church Friday evening, December 23, at 8 o'clock. An appropriate program will be rendered. A Christmas tree and Santa Claus will be the main attraction. Every one is invited to be present.

At the meeting of the Maids and Matrons' Club last Tuesday evening the following were unanimously elected to membership: Mrs. Grace Hewitt, Mrs. Sophie Barrett and Mrs. Meta Higenbotham. The Christmas box committee have completed their plans for distributing Christmas cheer to the shut-in sick and needy. This club was organized ten years ago with Mrs. Grover Furguson as its president. Mrs. Furguson held this office for seven years and it was through her faithful efforts that the distributing of Christmas boxes was started. Mrs. Edward A. Martin is now the president and is conducting the work of the club as before. Milton has never before had an organization of any kind that has done the good work for the upbuilding of this village as has been accomplished by the Maids' and Matrons' Club. Every church is represented in this club and all work together faithfully and loyally.

The annual Christmas supper of the Presbyterian Church and Sunday school will be given at the church parlor Wednesday evening, December 28. The Rev. Frank Malven and wife of Poughkeepsie are expected to be present. The Rev. Mr. Malven will give the evening address.

The Milton Melody Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward A. Martin Wednesday evening, December 21. Friday evening, December 30, the men of the Methodist Church will be entertained by the Ladies' Aid Society at the home of Mrs. Sarah Woolsey.

Jet Universal Ornament

There was a time when every woman in England wore Whiffy Jet. Not to have worn Whiffy Jet would have seemed like an insult to Queen Victoria, says the London Express.

The Jet was carved into ingenious ornaments. It was made into bracelets, into beads, and impressive ornaments like necklaces of black diamonds rose and fell on Victorian bosoms. Gowns were lavishly embroidered with Jet "bugles."

Such garments (even occasionally nowdays on the bodies of theatrical landladies) were like a standard work on British respectability. How our fathers dared to make love to women who belated and tinkled forthrightly in Jet, is a subject for some future historian.

Ants as Nurses

While engaged in studying ant hills near Baltimore, Prof. Andrews of Johns Hopkins university discovered that ants sometimes move their babies from the colder to the warmer sides of the ant hills. Thrusting thermometers into the sides of the ant houses, he found that the inside was warmer than the outside air; and, since the sun was the only heating plant, the southern sides of the hills were warmer than the northern. Twice he watched processions of ants carrying unhatched infants from a northern to a southern side. Apparently insect parents know the value of warmth and sunshine for children.—Popular Science Monthly.

Use for the Mind

There is a certain use to which we might put the mind more often. We might use our minds to convince ourselves of our well-being instead of using our minds so much of the time to convince ourselves that we are in an unfortunate state. We get the idea that we are very tired—not because we are really worn out, but because we convince ourselves that we are. We rather like the martyrdom of weariness. In the mind we decide we are tired. Another attitude might convince us that we are still pretty fresh.—Grove Patterson in the Mobile Register.

PANAMA CITY.—Most men take out insurance as a means of providing for themselves or their families in case of accident or death, but Innocenzo Galindo, a prominent resident of this city, expects to gain the full benefits of his insurance by living. He has just obtained an insurance policy by which he will be paid $2,000 a year as long as he lives.

For this policy Mr. Galindo paid the sum of $5,700 and the policy stipulates that for the rest of his life Mr. Galindo will receive a quarterly annuity of $500. If an allowance is made for the interest which Mr. Galindo will lose on his $5,700, it will be seen that in about five years he will break even with the insurance company and that thereafter what he collects on his policy will be so much "net."

tion Back to Normal After Severe Snow and Wind.
Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 20 (AP).—December continued to have its teeth in western New York today as a light snow fell and the temperature reached fright marks. Reports from points in the western and central parts of the state told of efforts to bring traffic conditions back to normal after severe snow and wind storms.

The majority of the two hundred hundred who experienced privations and faced possible starvation within a few hours near Evans, in the southern part of Erie county, were being cared for in hotels and farm houses after their harrowing experience. A few had succeeded in making train connections for this city and Cleveland after abandoning their autos in snow drifts twenty feet high. Rescue workers had come through with bob sleighs loaded with provisions after a heavy snow plow finally broke the way.

The four foot snowfall of the past three days continued to be blown into great heaps by winds off Lake Erie and even the outline of many

"One Price" is Our Creed

When Somebody Pays Less,
Somebody Else Pays More!

THERE is no shopping safety where there is no price certainty.
Where one customer must pay an inflated price in order that another may pay a reduced price, there can be no security of value.

How much confidence can you feel in a store that alters its prices in proportion to the willingness of the customer to pay? How would YOU enjoy paying enough to make up the deficit of somebody who "got it for less"?

Our ideal of a store is one flexible in service,—and INFLEXIBLE in price.

The only fair and square way to conduct a store is to maintain one equitable price to all. We will not have one customer help pay for another's purchase!

State Dairymen To Meet in Albany

Difficulties Involved in Determining Fair Price for Known Fat in Milk One of the Problems to be Discussed.

The fifty-first annual meeting of the New York State Dairymen's Association will be held in Albany on Tuesday, January 17, according to an announcement by the president of the association, A. C. Dahlberg, chief of the dairy division of the Experiment Station at Geneva. The Dairymen's Association meeting will be followed by the sessions of the New York State Breeders' Association, and the State Agricultural Society.

One of the special features of these series of agricultural meetings will be the old fashioned farm dinner to be given by the State Agricultural Society on the evening of January 18. It is expected that Governor Smith will be one of the speakers at the occasion.

Commenting on the program of the Dairymen's Association, Mr. Dahlberg calls attention particularly to a report to be given by the committee appointed by the association to study the difficulties involved in determining a fair price for fat in milk in excess of the minimum amount required by law. The committee has among its members those who are interested in several dairy breeds and also those who are concerned with the buying and selling of milk.

"It is generally understood that milk solids are most valuable both to the consumer and to the producer in the shape of fluid milk," says Mr. Dahlberg. "However, the price usually received by the dairy farmer for the fat in his milk above the legal requirements is lower than the price he would receive if the fat was sold in any other form."

"Why does this inconsistency exist? The reasons for the present conditions and the difficulties which may be encountered in raising the price of the excess fat have been presented to the committee and will be outlined in their report."

Do You Remember?

One of the grandest filling stations of all time was the old-fashioned pantry. There was never any question about the quality nor about the quantity. It was open day and night, Sundays and holidays, and there was no such thing as short measure.—Detroit Free Press.

News From the World on Wheels

Pierce Arrow's famous fender headlamps appear in a new and modern design on the recently introduced Series 81. While they retain the characteristics of the type which has been an exclusive patented feature for many years, the new lamps have been modeled so as to harmonize with the graceful airplane type fender. The new fender headlamps carry with them small auxiliary helmet type lamps mounted midway between fender and radiator in an extremely graceful grouping. They give a wider illumination and act as a guide for more accurate steering, enabling drivers to see the edge of the pavement on a dark night. They also cause oncoming cars to give Pierce Arrow a wider berth at night.

Good for Autographs

Has Inspired Forgers

Autograph collecting, that desire to possess something of greatness even though it be no more than his signature, has enthralled many since ancient times. An Egyptian Pharaoh paid high prices to the Greeks for autographs of the Sophocles, Euripides and others of their noted countrymen. These autographs, however, were mostly of marks and seals.

The collection of written signatures seems to have originated in Germany and the Low Countries in 1554, when students began carrying pocket volumes for signed sentimental expressions of their friends. Some of these are in the British Museum along with others almost priceless, such as the signature of Shakespeare. Rivalries of collectors and the high prices paid have encouraged forgeries.

That perpetrated in the middle of the Nineteenth century by W. H. Ireland is among the most famous. He got up a whole series of letters purporting to be by Shelley and Byron, complete even to postmarks and seals. Some years ago a certain Vrain Lucas succeeded in selling a collection of 27,000 pieces, among them letters of Mahomet to the king of the Franks, Alexander the Great to Aristotle, Judas Iscariot to Mary Magdalene, and others, written in French on French paper and bearing a fleur-de-lis watermark. Needless to add, it was not long before the fraud was discovered.—The Kansas City Times.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Some Christmas Suggestions Include the Square Taffeta or Satin Scarf in Bold Plaid, and Spangled Scarfs for Evening Wear—Also Novelty Belts and Buckles.

Paris—Tucked beneath the collar of her coat, the average Parisienne wears a large square of a ribbed silk, in bold black, or broken plaid design. This is the present approved type of scarf for town wear, and seems to be worn by both men and women. Naturally, the best effects are obtained when color harmonies are considered, but there seems to be a rather marked preference for bold black and white plaid scarfs. In texture, as well as design, they differ from the scarfs of yesteryear, which were of figured crepes, instead of plaid sarah or soft taffeta. For sports wear, the scarf is usually made of the fabric of the gown, or part of it, since often two materials are used for a costume.

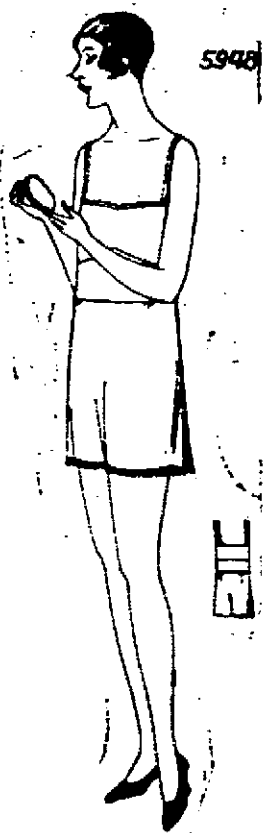

The Cape Above is of Purple Velvet Collared in White Ermine, with a Delicate Design in Gold Threads and Crystals Scattered Over the Surface.

It is not infrequently cut in one with the dress. Vionnet, who appears to be a wizard in cutting, achieves some charmingly soft draped necklines in this way. The spangled scarf for evening in large bandanna or handkerchief shapes is a charming addition to the youthful chiffon frock.

Scarfs, then, continue to be a Christmas suggestion of merit. One may add belts and buckles to the list of Yuletide possibilities, for the separate belt, a thing of beauty in itself, is among the most important fads of the moment. Buckles also are of great interest and importance, and are frequently really beautiful as ornaments, irrespective of being an effective trimming.

EVERYDAY FOOD

A meat loaf is often the most suitable way of serving meat to the family, and when properly seasoned and prepared is a tasty main dish.

Meat Loaf.—Chop one pound of fresh pork and veal and two pounds of beef. Mix and add one cupful of bread crumbs, one cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, and three eggs slightly beaten. Shape into a loaf, put into a baking pan and cover the top with thin strips of fat salt pork. Roast one and one-half hours, basting every ten minutes with one-half cupful of water and the fat from the pan. Remove to the platter; pour around the loaf a tomato sauce and garnish with parsley.

Pimiento Potatoes.—Season three cupfuls of hot riced potatoes with three tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half cupful of cream and salt to taste. Add one and one-half cans pimientos cut into small pieces and forced through a sieve, then beat until well blended. Reheat and pile on a hot dish.

Coffee Junket.—A dessert which is wholesome, easy to prepare and dainty to serve: Take one junket tablet, crush and dissolve in a tablespoonful of warm milk, then add to a quart of lukewarm milk. Reserve half a cupful of milk and pour boiling hot over two tablespoonfuls of coffee; let stand until well-infused, then strain and cool before adding to the milk. Let stand in a warm place until the junket is set, then place on ice to chill. Serve with whipped cream.

Banana Ice Cream.—Peel and mash six bananas, add the strained juice of half a lemon, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, beat to a cream. Add three pints of rich milk and freeze.

Velvet Lemon Sherbet.—This is one of the most popular of desserts. Take the juice of three lemons, add two cupfuls of sugar and one quart of rich milk, cream and all. Freeze. The mixture will curdle when being combined but will freeze so that it is as smooth as velvet.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 20 (AP).—Bullish operations in today's stock market were temporarily interrupted by a wave of selling which followed the omission of the Pan American dividends, but speculative confidence was quickly restored and the market headed upward again in the early afternoon. More than a score of issues were elevated to new high levels for the year, or longer, some of the gains running as high as nine points.

Heavy buying of the motors was characterized as the usual "window dressing" in preparation for the New York Automobile Show next month. One block of 15,000 shares of General Motors changed hands at 155, as against a closing quotation of 133 1/2 yesterday. Hudson also was heavily accumulated, and a better underdone was apparent for most of the other shares. Gabriel Sub-ber sank to another new low at 22.
Coppers continued to press forward under the leadership of Greene Cananea, Calumet and Arizona, An-acanda and Kennecott. A. M. Byers and Fox Film A, each of which ran up over five points, featured the specialty group. Among the many issues to reach new peak prices were American Can, Electric Power, Brunswick Terminal, Seagrave and Brown Shoe. On the other hand, Warner Pictures A and Amalgamated Leather preferred sank to new lows.
Except for the continued ease of money at four per cent a series of "Christmas dividends" by banks and insurance companies and widespread predictions of business prosperity next year, there was little in the day's news to influence the price movement.

WOMAN PREACHER WINS WAY IN WEST

Ministers to Flock in 35-Mile-Long Pastorate.

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 20 (AP).—A pastorate that stretches 35 miles through the Colville valley of Washington, Rev.
Gerrude L. Apel drives her car throughout the week ministering to the spiritual needs of 150 members of two Methodist Episcopal congregations.
Each Sunday she preaches three sermons, one at Valley and two at Chewelah.

In this little empire there is only one other resident Protestant minister to assist her in burying the dead, baptizing the babies and marrying the young couples.

During ten years of her ministry
Miss Apel has held three pastorates.
The first was in Montana and the other two in Washington. All of them were frontier communities. She attends to all the usual duties of a pastor and also takes part in the civic affairs of the community.

To her ability to meet people on a common ground Miss Apel attributes much of the success of her pastoral work. She believes that success of the church's mission is dependent upon making Christianity practical.

"People recognize their need of the church when we make Jesus Christ real to them and help solve the problems of their everyday lives," she declares.

"I do not believe the young people of our times are different from those of other generations. In some cases, it is true, they have come into contact with materialistic theories in their school work and the church has offered them nothing that they felt met the situation. We must approach the people of today, young people as well as their elders, on a ground of common understanding. If we would hold their interest and loyalty."

Beginning her preparation for the ministry before the canons of her denomination provided for admission of women into its pulpits, Miss Apel was one of the first of her sex to be ordained by the Methodist Episcopal church.

She says she has found few obstacles to her service because of her sex.

Callo Learning Bad for Indian Natives

London.—Only six or seven people out of every hundred in India can read or write, according to Sir Chimanlal Satalvad, K. C. I. E., an Indian scholar and vice chancellor of the University of Bombay.

Sir Chimanlal, who visited England recently, declared in an interview that "there are circumstances in which the ability to read and write is of little use, and even of greater harm than illiteracy would be."

At the time of the Indian mutiny, he explained, the statesmen governing the country encouraged education by setting up most of the universities which now exist in India, but not without appreciating the danger of Indian students becoming reactionary in politics.

"There have been reactionary movements," he said, "but there has also been progress in understanding, and the risk their policy entailed has been proved worth while. Then followed lesser men, not so farseeing, who forsook the universities and urged that efforts should be primarily devoted to primary education."

"Now the state of affairs is bad, as there are many learning to read and write, which is not of great value to some, while higher education is being neglected."

Earth's Crust Settling, Sir Oliver Lodge Says

London.—The earth's crust is settling, declares Sir Oliver Lodge, explaining the abundant evidence of earthquakes, tidal waves, typhoons and hurricanes, rainstorms and floods.

"There is nothing abnormal in the operation," he says, "but improved methods of communication broadcast the news of earthquakes and typhoons all over the world in a few seconds.

A century ago typhoons and earthquakes, such as have happened in Japan Mexico and the Black sea, would have been unheard of for many months.

"The crust of the earth is continually settling down. If a crack appears in the fabric of a house the house does not necessarily collapse at that spot, though another part of the building may fall because of the crack. Similarly a crack in the earth in the Pacific may cause another crack in a different part of the world."

C. D. of A. Trustees Entertain.
The trustees of Court Santa Maria, Catholic Daughters of America, gave a banquet Monday night at McCabe's Restaurant, Wall street, to members of the court who staged a minstrel show at St. Mary's Hall recently for the benefit of the court. After a delicious repast of turkey and all that goes with it to complete a wholesome meal, a social time was enjoyed by the 45 present, including the cast, officers of the court and David L. and Mrs. Long, guests.

Mr. Long directed the minstrel which proved a great success not alone financially but as a feature of entertainment. Mr. Long was heartily thanked by Miss Jane Madden, grand regent, in behalf of the organization. He responded by offering his services to Court Santa Maria whenever it wished to call upon him and said it gave him much pleasure to assist with the minstrel show. En-consisted of solos rendered by members of the former minstrel cast accompanied by Miss Kathryn Carroll on the piano. Mrs. Robert Liscom, ex-lecturer of the court, which office she held for seven years, was presented with a beautiful floor lamp for her untiring efforts. Miss Madden, present grand regent, made the presentation speech. Mrs. Liscom graciously responded for the kind expression of regard manifested by the Catholic Daughters. All ex-delightful banquet and social even-

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING CONTEST ENDS THURSDAY
Thursday, December 22, at noon the Christmas Lighting Contest of the Electric Service League for homes throughout the city will be closed for entries. Tomorrow the registration coupon will be printed for the last time in The Freeman, but it can be obtained until the last day at any of the league members' stores or other places where the contest poster is displayed. This coupon must be delivered to the Contest Director at 611 Broadway either by mail or in person not later than noon on Thursday and the decorations must be lighted on that evening.

The three prizes—an electric percolator set, an electric waffle iron set and a Sunbeam electric toaster—are on display at S. Cohen's Sons, 221 Wall street.

Decorations throughout the city on business streets and business buildings may well serve as suggestions for residential entries, and it is suggested that every person planning to decorate his home with light enter the contest. The decorations need not be elaborate to be eligible for entry and a simple, but effective arrangement may be a prize winner.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Very interesting Christmas services will be held this year at the First Baptist Church on Albany avenue. The prayer meeting on Thursday evening will be a Christmas carol service. The time will be given over very largely to the singing of carols, but the program will be varied by other interesting features. The meeting begins at 7:30 o'clock.

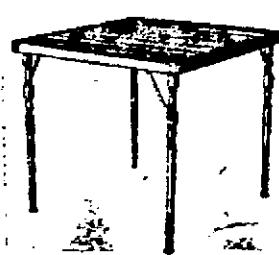

On Sunday the regular Christmas services of the church will be held and an augmented choir will render special Christmas music at both services. Mrs. Florence W. Cumberley, violinist, will also play. The sermons by the pastor, the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, will be on the following topics: Morning, "The Pioneer of Life." Evening, "The House of Christmas."

The Christmas tree and entertainment of the Bible school will be held on Wednesday evening, December 28, and a fine program is being prepared for the occasion.

CHRISTMAS MUSICAL SERVICE AT REDEEMER CHURCH

A special Christmas musical service will be held at Redeemer Lutheran Church on Christmas evening at 7:30 o'clock. The choir assisted by some of the best soloists of the city will sing the Christmas cantata "Bethlehem" by Maunder. "Bethlehem" is one of the great works in musical literature, admirably expressed in chorus and solo work and fully reflecting the wonderful message and spirit of the Christmas season. The assisting soloists on this occasion will be Mrs. J. Osterhoudt, Miss Jeanette Grimes, Miss Ethel Schlecht, Carl Pierson, Harry Clearwater and Herman LaTour. A short organ recital will be rendered preceding the service by the organist, Prof. Frederick Richens. His organ numbers, "Prelude to the Coming of the King," by Dudley Buck and "Fantasy, The First Nowell," J. E. West. The pastor, the Rev. O. E. Brandorff will preach a short sermon on "The Song of the Angels."

Happiness, like company, sometimes comes when one is too busy to entertain it.

Jackie Reid Is Sturdy and Clean

The semi-final bout on the armory card, scheduled for Wednesday, December 28, promises to give local patrons of the cauliflower industry plenty of action. Jackie Reid of Newburgh will meet Eddie Marlow of Fort Hamilton in the tilt and with the name of the former on the card it cannot fail to be a real fight.

Jackie Reid, is known as one of Newburgh's outstanding pugilists. He recently received a decision over Joe Vosdick, favorably known in Kingston as a fighter because of his many wins at local matches. Vosdick fought a draw with Reid after his first setback but had hard work to keep the sturdy Newburgher from putting over a haymaker. Reid is a sturdy boy and a real scrapper. He is the sort that plunges into the battle to win. Jackie is a clean fighter with a retinue of tactics that has pleased fans wherever he has appeared. He counts strongly upon a win at the armory to send him higher in the game.

Eddie Marlow is not so well known here. He is probably one of the best that could be signed to stack up against Reid. Eddie will have to be more than the ordinary scrapper to put one over on the Newburgh boy who has been packing them away throughout the Hudson valley this season. The Fort Hamilton scrapper will have to possess plenty of endurance which is one of the main factors of Reid's makeup and success.

The program as a whole is expected to be one of quality, the main factor in view while making up the card.

Stagg to Coach Till Grandson Joins Team

Amos Alonzo Stagg became a grandfather recently. A boy, A. A. Stagg III, weighing 7½ pounds, was born to his son, one of the assistant coaches at The University of Chicago.

The Old Man of the Midway, now sixty-four, said he intended to coach football until his grandson becomes a member of the squad, about 1947.

Four New Grid Foes for Harvard Squad in 1928

Four new teams are on the 1928 Harvard football schedule, which was announced recently. The newcomers to the stadium are the Army, Lehigh, North Carolina and Springfield, replacing Brown, Purdue, Indiana and Vermont. All of the 1928 games, except the one with Yale, will be played at the stadium.

The full schedule: October 6, Springfield; October 13, North Carolina; October 20, Army; October 27, Dartmouth; November 3, Lehigh; November 10, Pennsylvania; November 17, Holy Cross; November 24, Yale at New Haven.

Notre Dame Will Build Bowl Costing $800,000

A stadium seating 50,000 persons and costing $800,000, is to be built at the University of Notre Dame. It was learned, although it was not said when work would be started.

A committee to handle the financing has been appointed and consists of the following men: President M. J. Walsh; former President J. A. Burns, and Frank E. Hering of Notre Dame, and Edward N. Hurley and Byron Kanaly, both of Chicago.

The large wooden structure enclosing Carter field has proved too small to accommodate the crowds that have wanted to see Notre Dame football teams play in recent years.

Ruth Took Part in Most World Series Contests

Bebe Ruth has taken part in eight world series contests—1915, 1916 and 1918 with the Red Sox and 1921, 1922, 1923, 1925 and 1927 with the Yankees. His nearest neighbors are Eddie Collins, Frank Baker, Everett Scott and Walter Schang.

Collins played four with the Athletics and two with the White Sox; Schang played two with the Athletics, one as a member of the Red Sox and then three as a Yankee. Baker was with the Athletics four times and the Yankees twice, while Scott performed for Red Sox, Yankees and Washington.

No Game Here Wednesday Night

Next Game Will be Staged on Monday With Troy-Brooklyn Merit January 2—Catskill and Brooklyn Break Even.

There will be no Metropolitan League basketball game at the armory Wednesday night. Troy, scheduled to be Kingston's next opponent, will meet the locals at the armory Monday, December 26. The Visitations of Brooklyn will play at the armory against the Husta brigade Monday, January 2. Mickey Husta will be at the armory Saturday to sell tickets.

Both games are expected to draw large crowds. Kingston has not lost a game on the home court this season and the team is showing signs of promise in the championship race. The Kingston representatives expect a hard battle with the Visitations.

The Visitations and Catskill recently broke even in two games played. Saturday night the Howitzers dropped a game to the Visitations at Catskill, home court of the former, 29-22. The game was one of the flashiest played on the court this season. Sunday night the Catskill team drubbed the Visitations at Brooklyn, their home court, 30-12.

YOUNG JUDEANS TO PLAY KINGSTON ALL-STARS

The Young Judeans will stack up against the Kingston All-Stars at the Community Center court, downtown, tonight. The former team has returned from a series of road games and expects to show some flashy playing on the home court. The lineup of the Judeans will be chosen from Captain Alcon, Perlman, Frier, Bahl, Balinsky, Sussin, Basch. The All Stars are composed of Oliver, Fisher, Snyder, Connelly and Cullum.

The Judeans have a busy schedule ahead. Thursday they will meet Newburgh. Christmas they will travel to Amsterdam where they will take on a fast team. Some time during next week they will go to Albany where the Gaynor fire will oppose them. The Judeans recently defeated the Gaynor masked five at the Jewish Community Center. The feat was considered quite an accomplishment as the Gaynor came here with a good reputation.

Chandlers Meet Kingston High

Coach Kias has been drilling his Kingston High School varsity basketball team rather strenuously throughout the week for the meeting with the fast stepping Chandlers in the school gym tonight. The game will get under way at 8 o'clock. There will be another game at the school between the Faculty five and the newly-organized Hupmobile quintet. It is expected that many fans will see the contests which promise to be flashy.

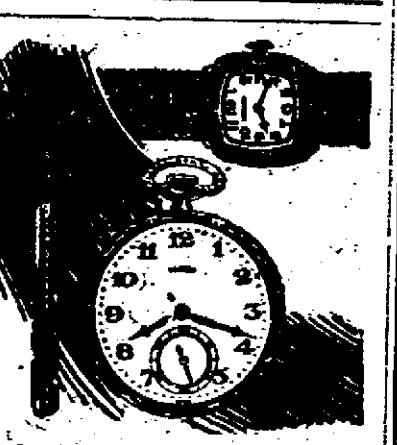

The Chandlers, masters of the amateur court rulings with "Pop" Hinds, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. as coach, are expected to give the school team plenty to worry about during the game. The Chandlers have overcome some of the best quintets in the vicinity and are considered a real test for the varsity. They beat the Kingston All-Stars Saturday night on the Y. M. C. A. court 52-21 and recently have scored several victories over the Y's Men's team. Captain Fox, of the Chandlers, will take the court with the following men ready for action: Niles and Fox, forwards; Kennedy, center, and either Hoffman, Doolin or Smith for the guard berth.

It is expected that Coach Kias will send to the defense of Kingston High School's record on the court either Erena, Maroon or Merrill, forwards; Wonderly or Burgerin for the pivot position, while Watts, Joyce, Brown, Molyneux, Clark or McDonald may be used as guards.
